WHEELING, MARCH 7, 1800.

WINTER, lingering, has put March on runners and placed about the lion's neck a string of jingling bells. The courting folk like it and want more of it.

"Now that we have the fair what shall we do with it?" asks the Chicago Journal, Do what you said you would That will be glory enough for one year

STRANGE, in view of the Ludlow street jail disclosures, that no New York poet has struck his lyre to the tune of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Taken from a county jail."

In the sober judgment of Mr. Henry Watterson the Kilkenny harmony between Cleveland and Hill will use up both of those gladiators. Well, isn't this an era of reform?

THE heirs of George H. Corliss, the great engine builder, will erect at Newburyport, Mass., a Y. M. C. A. memorial building. This is the sort of monument to build, better than a lifeless shaft.

THE man whom West Virginia chose for her Governor was given an ovation in the convention of the National Republican League. West Virginians appreciate this compliment, for they know it is well bestowed on their leader.

A HARRISON county correspondent desires to know whether Ohio county has

This policy, stuck to without fear or favor, would be a protection to the appointing power, to honest men seeking office and to the country. Nobody would feel like endorsing a disreputable man if he knew that the endorsement was likely to get into print. Nobody would be disposed to assassinate character if he knew that the gleam of his knife would be reflected in the public tor Allison's re-election. When it was seen that the Republican majority in the Legislature was small the plotters got to work.

They were Democratic plotters who wisely selected a Republican to disorganize the Republican ranks. Ex-Governor Larabee was their man, and they flattered him into believing that he had some chance. They worked the Granger acket for all it was worth.

'It is to the credit of Republicans in the Iowa Legislature that when it came to the caucus test every man of them cast his ballot for Allison, and it was a secret ballot at that. Senator Allison is too big a man for the country to lose from the Senate, unless it shall have use for him in a higher place.

A Harmsox county correspondent desires to know whether Ohio county has more than three members of the County Court, and if so where the authority is to be found. That body is composed ten Commissioners. The authority is to be found in an act of the legislature approved December 21st, 1872.

New York letter carriers are raising money for a monument to the late S. S. Cox. Mr. Cox was the friend and champion of the letter carriers are was of the men of the life saving service. As the poor men of Gotham have undertaken the task the monument will probably be built. Later the Grant monument may come along.

Onto Republicans are consoling themselves with the thought that if the Democrats gerrymander Major McKinley out of Congress he will be the next Governor of Ohio. There is not a guorum, the constitutional representation of Ohio, eminent a station as that is.

Buffalo Bill came back with a challenge to all Italy to master one of his bucking bronches, which is a very different thing from grinding a hand-organ and operating a monkey.

Practical Reform in the Civil service. The New York Herald, which stands up for Civil Service reform, fears that the professed friends of the reform are doing it no good. There is not publicity enough and the Herald wants more. It says on this point:

Second and most important in this reform comes some way to protect the President and the executive officers of the Government from the execut

The Rice Crop.

The Rice Crop.

Messrs. Dan Talmage's Sons of New York, state that the count of rice in mills and warehouses on the 1st inst., together with estimated receipts of rough, reduced to cleaned, show forward supply: Carolina 70,000 barrels; last year 60,000 barrels; Louisiana 110,000 barrels; last year 145,000 barrels. The residue of crop is mainly fair to good grades and in fine condition, thus guaranteeing safe carriage during summer months. Some 200,000 bags of foreign were required last year in addition to the amount above set forth, and with equal demand imports will have to be made again this year. With crop short of usual requirements, and prices over one-half cent per pound below cost of importing equal grades of foreign, the outlook favors marked appreciation of values in domestic as the season progresses.

When the site fight was on New York said she could put the fair on its feet and run it without an appropriation except for the Government exhibit. Chicago said she could do the same. It being thought that other things were not equal and that the difference was in Chicago's favor, that city walked off with the glittering prize.

It was not long before some influential Chicagoans began to sing a different tune. The country was told that Chicago nover did expect to get along without a considerable appropriation. Now comes Jack the Ripper.

"A butcher knows how to make both ends meat." "Yes, if you give him the proper steer."

This is not all. The country is hearing from Chicago that for some reasons it may be better to postpone the fair for a year. To this New York replies that Send to Dr. Kline, 031 Arch st., Phila., Pa. advertise in the INTELLIGENCER.

The place the fair in New York in a Presidential year.

Chicage must put up her money and she must guarantee that the exhibition shall be ready to opened in the spring of 1892. She must do this or she may run against a serious snag. The bill has yet to pass.

Russin Must Do Better.

It is useless for the Russian Government to deny through the Russian press or any other way the story of the atrocious treatment of political prisoners in Siberia. The world will not believe the denial, and it is to the world that Russia addresses herself. Better than denial would be reform. This may not be undertaken.

quity. An Unprecedented Case.

Editor Cowles, of the Cleveland Leader, had a peculiar impediment in his speech. There has probably never been a case like it. The cause of this impediment was a mystery until he was about twenty-five years old, when Professor Kennedy discovered that it was caused by a defect in his hearing. He never heard the hissing sounds of the human voice, and consequently did not make them himself. He never heard the notes of a piano or an organ of the seventh octaves, never heard the apper notes of a violin, the fife, or other high music. He never heard the song of birds and always supposed, until his peculiarity was discovered, that the music of the birds was poetical fiction. Editor Cowles, of the Cleveland Leader
